Matters Arising

There were no other matters arising not covered in the meeting.

Dr Burchardt's Research Update

Dr Burchardt gave us all an interesting update on her research. Her research has been published and has been well received.

She is hoping to secure funding for her PhD. The PhD would be with the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine. This would be with a much larger group of people of all backgrounds and ethnicity.

She would appreciate our continued support and putting forward our thoughts. She said that for this purpose the PPG should appear as a Core Patient Advisory Group (CAPG). She then continued to outline the direction the research would take.

We all said we hoped she would be able to get the funding required and we would like to continue to help in any capacity.
